

Internet/Web

Answering these 45 questions, you can estimate your knowledge regarding the Internet and the web.

Click on Vérifier (Check) to control your answer for each question.

Your global result will appear when you have answered the last question.
To end the test: click on Vérifier at question 45.

Click on ? to have additional information. To hide the questions, click on them.

Duration: 20 minutes

1 - In order to connect a local network (LAN) to the outside world, it is connected to a:

- cable
- router
- hub

2 – The Internet is a:

- software
- group of computers
- network of networks

3 – The Internet is a network:

- that is local
- with a worldwide coverage
- that belongs to one company

4 – The Internet connects computers:

- that use Windows 98
- of the brand Compaq
- that use various operating systems

5 – Through the Internet, the information travels:

- always at the same speed
- at different speeds
- as DOC files

6 – In order to connect to a provider, between my computer and my phone line, I always have to possess a:

- scanner
- modem
- screen

7 – Which network topology does the Internet use:

- Bus
- Star
- Mesh

8 – The information that passes through the Internet is cut in lumps that are called:

- frames
- records
- packets

9 – Through the Internet, all computers use the same basic protocol to manage information exchanges.

- HTML
- TCP/IP
- TCP/HP

10 – To access the Internet, the user has to use the services of a:

- programmer
- electrician
- service provider

11 - The WWW (World Wide Web) is a service of:

- news
- multimedia information
- text information

12 – You could say that:

- the Internet network was born before the WWW
- WWW was born before the Internet
- WWW was born at the same time as the Internet

13 – To identify a website on the Web, I need to know its:

- E-mail address
- MAC address
- URL

14 - In http://www.dell.com/index.htm, http designates:

- a document
- a protocol
- a machine

15 – To access a website, the most appropriate tool is:

- Windows explorer
- a browser
- Word

16 – How is called the functionality thanks to which you can go from one point to another in a same page, from one page to another, or from one website to another:

- an absolute reference
- an implicit link
- a hyperlink

17 – The file intro.htm is stocked on your hard disk drive. You have the browser Internet Explorer. What happens if you click twice on the name of this file from Windows explorer?

- the file is deleted
- Windows displays an error message
- the file is opened in Internet Explorer

18 - A webpage with several images is displayed on your computer. How can you know the type of file of one image?

- I click on the image
- Right-click on the page - Properties
- Right-click on the image - Properties

19 – A multimedia company wishes to have 24h/7 access to the Internet. It wishes to download entire websites. What type of physical infrastructure to access the Internet should it use?

- RNIS
- ADSL
- classic RTC

20 - In IE8, to access a website, you need to write its URL in the:

- address bar
- link bar
- taskbar

21 – You have just surfed for two hours. You wish to delete some of the tracks. What can you do?

- IE8 options
- IE8 options, delete the files, delete history and delete cookies
- IE8 options, delete the files and delete history

22 – How can you stock the current webpage in one single file? Saving it in a file with this extension:

- BIN
- HTML
- MHT

23 - Using IE8, what do you have to set up in order to stock 200 Mo files on your hard disk drive?

- the Windows temporary file
- IE8 cache
- some specifications of the WIN.INI file

24 – How do you call the possibility to email a file?

- document
- secured document
- attached document

25 – To stock incoming mails in my mailbox (on my ISP), I need to be connected to the Internet when the senders send their emails. What do you think?

- yes, this is correct
- no, because my mailbox is stocked on my ISP
- yes, because my mailbox is stocked on my hard disk drive

26 – How is called the protocol that manages email sending?

- IP
- SMTP
- POP3

27 – The construction of webpages is based on a language format. This language is:

- Pascal
- HTTP
- HTML

28 – The elements that allow structuring a webpage are called:

- settings
- instructions
- markup

29 – You are constantly connected to the Internet through an ADSL system. In the list below, which proposition best protects your PC?

- a password
- an antivirus and a firewall
- just a firewall

30 – You receive an email with a file called truc.vbs. This file:

- is potentially dangerous (possible virus).
- cannot contain a virus.
- cannot present a risk.

31 – Using Google, you search pages that contain the word médecine (as it is written). You need to type:

- médecine
- medecine
- +médecine

32 - Using Google, you search pages that contain the term project management. You need to type:

- "project management"
- project and management
- project management

33 - Using Google, you search documents in a PowerPoint format that contain the word ICT. You need to type:

- ICT
- ICT filetype:ppt
- ICT powerpoint

34 - Using Google, you search pages that contain the word ICT, on a Belgian website. You need to type:

- ICT
- ICT belgium
- ICT site:.be

35 – During a search, you wish to submit to various search tools at the same time. You will use a:

- metasearch engine
- thematic directory
- search engine

36 – You have just browsed several websites. Internet Explorer memorised all the addresses in:

- the History
- the Bookmarks
- the link bar

37 – To select the URL of the address bar, you can use the following keyboard shortcut:

- ALT + F4
- CTRL + F4
- ALT + D

38 – On a webpage, you identify hyperlinks that directs to a PDF file. You wish to save this file on your hard disk drive. You use the following combination:

- double click on the link
- CAPS + click on the link
- right-click on the link – Save target as...

39 – On a webpage, you identify an image that is also a hyperlink. You wish to save this image on your hard disk drive. You do the following:

- copy and paste
- right-click on the link – Save image as...
- this is impossible

40 – On a webpage, you are interested in one specific paragraph. You wish to select it quickly. You do the following:

- copy
- this is impossible
- three clicks on the paragraph

41 – A webpage is displayed in Internet Explorer. You wish to view the HTML code of this page. You do the following:

- File – Save as
- View – Source
- File – Print preview

42 – From Internet Explorer, you wish to download an image (without hypertext) in Word. You do the following:

- drag and drop with the right button to Word
- drag and drop with the left button to Word
- double click on the image

43 - From Internet Explorer, you wish to get the current URL from the address bar in Word. You do the following:

- drag and drop the icon of the URL from the address bar into Word
- drag and drop IE to Word
- double click on the URL

44 – You have started Internet Explorer twice and the windows are displayed as a vertical mosaic. In one of the windows, the webpage contains a nice image. You wish to view it in the other window (as an image). You do the following:

- copy and paste
- drag and drop the photo into the other IE window
- IE cannot open an image file

45 – You wish to know the version of Internet Explorer. You do the following:

- Tools – Internet Options
- Files – Properties
- click on the menu ? – About Internet Explorer